

SEC Rule 606

The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission's Rule 606 requires broker dealers that route orders in certain equity and option securities to make available quarterly reports that present a general overview of their routing practices.

The purpose of this report is to provide the public with information on how broker-dealers route orders, enable the evaluation of order routing practices and foster competition among market participants. Upon request, broker-dealers also must disclose to customers the venues to which their individual orders were routed. Each customer may request a written copy of the report be mailed to them at no charge.

Each client account is held at one of our clearing firms, Interactive Brokers or StoneX. Transactions effected by Allied Millennial Partners LLC are executed and settled through the clearing firm where the account is held. The clearing firm makes the routing decisions concerning the customer order routed through them without regard to the identity of Allied Millennial Partners as its introducing broker-dealer.

If you would like to obtain further information regarding the primary market centers selected by either of these two clearing firms, you may access their quarterly Order Routing Report by accessing the links below:
